AV Communication Review Index

Volume 20, 1972

A

Accountability: Policies & procedures, learner centered management support systems, Leon Lessinger, Dale Parnell, and Roger Kaufman. Book reviewed by Alton Sheridan, 2 208-210

Administration
article: The automated little red schoolhouse, 3 253-269; General psychology over closed-circuit television: A decade of experience with 20,000 students, 2 181-193

Allen, William H., et al., Study of visual and auditory presentation in dental lecture and laboratory instruction, final report, research abstract, 3 351-352

Analysis of children's social skills development and their reactions to a preschool television program, Pena Deagelia and George Miller, research abstract, 3 349

An analysis of teacher-pupil interactions when instruction is individualized, James Lloyd Neujahr, research abstract, 1 103-104

Anderson, Charles M., In search of a visual rhetoric for instructional television, article, 1 43-63

Andrews, Charles R., The effect of short-term interruptions upon factual acquisitions from motion picture films among intermediate elementary school pupils, research abstract, 3 348

Annett, John, Sonar recognition training: An investigation of whole vs. part and analytic synthetic procedures, research abstract, 4 491

Applebaum, Stanley J., book reviewer, 3 307-313

Applications of educational technology at The Open University, article, David G. Hawkridge, 1 5-15

Applying learning theory and instructional film principles to films for learning observation skills, article, Betty D. Pearson, 3 281-295

Apitude treatment interaction. See also individual differences article: Varying instructional methods to fi trainee characteristics, 2 135-146

Atkin, Charles K., Interpersonal communication as a determinant of mass media exposure patterns, research abstract, 1 106

Atkin, Charles K., et al., Electronic politics and the voter: Conventional wisdom and empirical evidence, research abstract, 1 106-107

Atkinson, Richard C., and H. A. Wilson, Computer assisted instruction: A book of readings. Book reviewed by Keith A. Hall, 1 93-97

Attention
article: Color vs. black-and-white effects on learning, opinion, and attention, 1 16-28 research abstracts: Performance and classroom behavior of seriously disturbed, verbally communicative, psychotic-type children under conditions of reduced auditory input. Interim report, 4 490; Task performance, attention and classroom behavior of seriously disturbed, communication-impaired, "autistic"- type children under conditions of reduced auditory input. Interim report, 4 490

Attitudes

articles: Color vs. black-and-white effects on learning, opinion, and attention, 1 16-28; The effects of verbally violent film content on aggressive behavior, 2 160-169; Learning resources in the formation of international orientations, 3 229-251; The effects of a filmstrip/tape program on teachers' attitudes toward behaviorally stated objectives, 4 443-457 research abstracts: "Attitudes and media exposure," 2 220-221; Children's television behaviors as perceived by mother and child, 4 485-486; Development of concepts related to peace and war: An international perspective, 2 218-219; The effect of motion pictures portraying black models on the self-concept of black elementary school children, 1 104; The effects of viewing justified and unjustified fictional versus real film violence on aggressive behavior, 1 105; Electronic politics and the voter: Conventional wisdom and empirical evidence, 1 106-107; Emotional arousal and attitude change during simulation games, 3 343; An exploratory investigation of cross-modality cueing and stimulus-response associations in selected ITV programs, 3 348-349; Expressed preferences and desirability judgments of parents and their children for eighteen types of television violence, 4 484-485; Girls' attitudes toward violence as related to TV exposure, family attitudes, and social class, 4 484; Goal expectancy as a variable in teaching learning situations. Section III, instructional strategies: multivariable studies of psychological processes related to instruction, 3 349-350; Interpersonal communication as a determinant of mass media exposure patterns, 1 106; Microform use in a technical training environment: An experiment, final :eport, 3 352; Motivating the student in CAI technical courses, 1 108-109; Simulation games and attitudes toward the poor: Three questionnaire studies, 4 489-490

"Attitudes and media exposure," Charles W. King and John O. Summers, research abstract, 2 220-221

Audiotape

research abstract: A study of the effects of student control of audio tape learning experiences (via the control functions incorporated in the instructional device), 3 345

Auditory input

research abstracts: Performance and classroom behavior of seriously disturbed, verbally communicative, psychotic-type children under conditions of reduced auditory input. Interim report, 4 490; Task performance, attention and classroom behavior of seriously disturbed, communication-impaired, "autistic"-type children under conditions of reduced auditory input. Interim report, 4 490

Auditory Pattern Recognition

research abstract: Sonar recognition training: An investigation of whole vs. part and analytic synthetic procedures, 4 491

Auditory presentation

article: The relative efficiency of bimodal presentation as an aid to learning, 2 170-180 research abstracts: The effects of utilizing simultaneous audio and printed media in science, 1 110-111; Learning by listening in relation to aptitude, reading, and rate-controlled speech; additional studies, 1 110

The automated little red schoolhouse, article, Bryce F. Zender, Jr., 3 253-269

B

Ball, Samuel, and Gerry Ann Bogatz, Sesame Street summative research: Some implications for education and child development, research abstract, 4 483

Bapst, Jennis Joseph, The effect of systematic student response upon teaching behavior, research abstract, 4 489

Bauer, David H., The stability of evoked sense-impression responses to verbal stimuli, article, 1 29-34

Behind the classroom door, John Goodlad and M. Frances Klein, Book reviewed by Albert V. Mayrhofer, 1 82-85
Berkowitz, Leonard, "The contagion of violence: An s-r mediational analysis of some effects of observed aggression," research abstract, 3 350
Beyond freedom and dignity, B. F. Skinner. Book reviewed by Susan M. Markle, 1 77-82
The black man on film: Racial stereotyping, Films Incorporated, film reviewed by Sam Kula, 4 470-473
Boags, William, A comparison of affective reaction and cognitive learning of participants in a simulation-game experience, research abstract, 1 107-108
Bond, Nicholas A., Jr., Motivating the student in CAI technical courses, research abstract, 1 108-109
Books Reviewed
Accountability: Policies & procedures, learner centered management support systems, 2 208-210
Behind the classroom door, 1 82-85
Beyond freedom and dignity, 1 77-82
The black man on film: Racial stereotyping, 4 470-473
The CAI author/instructor, 1 93-97
CBS and Congress: "The selling of the Pentagon" papers, 2 194-199
The cable fable, 4 476-478
Cable television, a guide for citizen action, 3 335-341
Cable television in the cities: Community control, public access, and minority ownership, 3 335-341
The celluloid curriculum: How to use movies in the classroom, 4 470-473
Computer assisted instruction: A book of readings, 1 93-97
The computerized society, 3 307-313
Computers, communications and the public interest, 3 307-313
Computers in the classroom, 1 93-97
The Copernican revolution, 3 314-319
Developmental efforts in individualized learning, 3 320-324
Films deliver, 3 324-329
Films on campus, 3 324-329
Focus on D. W. Griffith, 2 204-208
The fourth revolution: Instructional technology in higher education, 4 466-470
The good teacher: How teachers judge teachers, 1 82-85
Hollywood cameramen, 4 474-476
To improve learning, 1 86-92
Index to black history & studies (multimedia), 1 97-98
Information technology in a democracy, 3 307-313
The instructional process, 1 82-85
Man and machine, 3 330-334
The management of learning, 4 463-466
On the cable, the television of abundance, 3 335-341
The political image merchants: Strategies in the new politics, 2 194-199
Portrait of a director: Satyajit Ray, 2 204-208
Perception and change: Projections for survival, 2 199-203
Perspectives in individualized learning, 3 320-324
Perspectives in the history of science and technology, 3 314-319
School of man, (special issue of Theory Into Practice) 3 330-334
Schools and cable television, 3 335-341
The sciences of the artificial, 4 459-463
Social and technological change: Implications for education, 1 82-85
Teach me! 3 330-334
Technology and education, 3 314-319
Technology, human values and leisure, 3 314-319
Understanding movies, 4 474-476
The wired city: A handbook on cable television for local officials, 3 335-341
The work of the film director, 2 204-208
Bosserman, Phillip. See Kaplan, Max
"Brain wave measures of media involvement," Herbert E. Krugman, research abstract, 2 219-220
Briggs, Leslie J., book reviewer, 4 463-466
Brown, Bobby R., et al., An investigation of the effects of two types of instructional terminals in computer-managed instruction, research abstract, 2 222
Bryant, Dale N., See Fassler, Joan
Butler, Lucius, and Robert L. Liske, Classification and coding systems for media resources, article, 3 296-306

C

The CAI author/instructor, J. C. Meredith. Book reviewed by Keith A. Hall, 1 93-97

CBS and Congress: "The selling of the Pentagon" papers, Educational Broadcasting Review. Book reviewed by Cerebrus, 2 194-199

Cabeceiras, James, Observed differences in teacher verbal behavior when using and not using the overhead projector, article, 3 271-280

The cable fable, special issue of Yale Review of Law and Social Action. Book reviewed by George L. Hall, 4 476-478

Cable television in the cities: Community control, public access, and minority ownership, Charles Tate (Ed.) Book reviewed by Charles J. Vento, 3 335-341

Cable television, a guide for citizen action, by Monroe E. Price and John Wicklein. Book reviewed by Charles J. Vento, 3 335-341

Can we affect cognitive skills through visual media? An hypothesis and initial findings, article, Gavriel Salomon, 4 401-422

Carnegie Commission on Higher Education, The fourth revolution: Instructional technology in higher education. Book reviewed by Sterling M. McMurrin, 4 466-470

Cartier-Bresson, Henri, Man and machine. Book reviewed by John P. Vergis, 3 330-334

The celluloid curriculum: How to use movies in the classroom, Richard R. Maynard. Book Reviewed by Sam Kula, 4 470-473

Cerebrus, book reviewer, 2 194-199

Children's perceptions of television violence: A replication, Bradley S. Greenberg and Thomas F. Gordon, research abstract, 2 217-218

Children's television behaviors as perceived by mother and child, Bradley S. Greenberg, et al., research abstract, 4 485-486

Children's responses to television violence, Aimee Dorr Leifer and Donald F. Roberts, research abstract, 2 218

Children's television behaviors as perceived by mother and child, Bradley S. Greenberg, et al., research abstract, 4 485-486

Cinema. See film

Classification and coding systems for media resources, article, Lucius Butler and Robert L. Liske, 3 296-306

Cognitive ability article: Can we affect cognitive skills through visual media? An hypothesis and initial findings, 4 401-422

Color. See visual presentation

Color vs. black-and-white effects on learning, opinion, and attention, article, Natan Katzman and James Nyenhuis, 1 16-28

Communications

article: Learning resources in the formation of international orientations, 3 229-251; Renewing the link between communications and educational technology, 4 357-399

A comparison of affective reaction and cognitive learning of participants in a simulation-game experience, William Boags, research abstract, 1 107-108

A comparison of the effects of information mapped learning materials and traditional materials on the learning of concepts via the printed page and computer cathode ray tube, Paul Geisert, research abstract, 1 111

Compressed speech

article: The effects of reading practice with compressed speech on reading rate and listening comprehension, 1 35-42

Computer-managed testing: A feasibility study with deaf students, Fred J. Hitti, et al., research abstract, 4 488-489

Computer assisted instruction: A book of readings, Richard C. Atkinson and H. A. Wilson. Book reviewed by Keith A. Hall, 1 93-97

Computer-assisted instruction

research abstracts: A comparison of the effects of information mapped learning materials and traditional materials on the learning of concepts via the printed page and computer cathode ray tube, 1 111; The effects of the availability of objectives and/or rules on the learning process, 1 111-112; Motivating the student in CAI technical courses, 1 108-109

Computer-managed

research abstracts: A comparison of the effects of information mapped learning materials and traditional materials on the learning of concepts via the printed page and computer cathode ray tube,

1 111; Computer-managed testing: A feasibility study with deaf students, 4 448-489; Continuously adaptive vs. discrete changes of task difficulty in the training of a complex perceptual-motor task, 2 222; An investigation of the effects of learner control in computer-assisted instruction prerequisite mathematics (MATHS), 2 221-222; An investigation of the effects of two types of instructional terminals in computer-managed instruction, 2 222

The computerized society, James Martin and Adrian R. D. Norman, Book reviewed by Lewis A. Rhodes and Stanley J. Applebaum, 3 307-313

Computers, communications and the public interest, Martin Greenberger (Ed.) Book reviewed by Lewis A. Rhodes and Stanley J. Applebaum, 3 307-313

Computers in the classroom, Joseph B. Margolin and Marion R. Misch. Book reviewed by Keith A. Hall, 1 93-97

"The contagion of violence: an s-r mediational analysis of some effects of observed aggression," Leonard Berkowitz, research abstract, 3 350

Continuously adaptive vs. discrete changes of task difficulty in the training of a complex perceptual-motor task, Milton E. Wood, research abstract, 2 222

Coombs, Don, research abstracts, department editor

The Copernican revolution, Thomas S. Kuhn. Book reviewed by Geoffrey Squires, 3 314-319

Culkin, John M. See Schillaci, Anthony

D

Dambrot, Faye, General psychology over closed-circuit television: A decade of experience with 20,000 students, article, 2 181-193

Davies, Ivor K., The management of learning. Book reviewed by Leslie J. Briggs, 4 463-466

Deagelia, Pena, and George Miller, Analysis of children's social skills development and their reactions to a preschool television program, research abstract, 3 349

Development of concepts related to peace and war: An international perspective, Magnus Haavelsrud, research abstract, 2 218-219

Developmental efforts in individualized learning, Robert A. Weisgerber, Book reviewed by Elwood E. Miller, 3 320-324

Di Vesta, Francis J., et al., Goal expectancy as a variable in teaching learning situations. Section III, instructional strategies: Multivariable studies of psychological processes related to instruction, research abstract, 3 349-350

Dimas, Chris, The effect of motion pictures portraying black models on the self-concept of black elementary school children, research abstract, 1 104

Disturbed children

research abstracts: Performance and classroom behavior of seriously disturbed, verbally communicative, psychotic-type children under conditions of reduced auditory input. Interim report, 4 490; Task performance, attention and classroom behavior of seriously disturbed, communication-impaired, "autistic"-type children under conditions of reduced auditory input. Interim report, 4 490

Dominick, Joseph R., and Bradley S. Greenberg, Girls' attitudes toward violence as related to TV exposure, family attitudes, and social class, research abstract, 4 484

Dominick, Joseph Raymond, Jr., The influence of social class, the family, and exposure to television violence on the socialization of aggression, research abstract, 2 216-217

Doran, Judith, and James G. Holland, "Eye movements as a function of response contingencies measured by blackout technique," research abstract, 3 350-351

Durkin, Roderick, Involvement and making movies: A study of the introduction of movie making to poverty boys, research abstract, 1 108

E

Educational Broadcasting Review, (special issue), CBS and Congress: "The selling of the Pentagon" papers. Book reviewed by Cerebrus, 2 194-199

Educational television. See television, instructional Eidell, T. L. See Piele, P. K.

Electronic politics and the voter: Conventional wisdom and empirical evidence, Charles K. Atkin, et al. research abstract, 1 106-107

Emotional arousal and attitude change during simulation games, Steven J. Kidder, research abstract, 3 343

Environmental simulation, Kenneth. H. Silber and Gerald W. Ewing, research abstract, 1 109-110

The effect of motion pictures portraying black models on the self-concept of black elementary school children, Chris Dimas, research abstract, 1 104

The effect of sequence and familiarity with subject matter in achievement from programed instruction, final report, Sigmund Tobias, research abstract, 3 346

The effect of short-term interruptions upon factual acquisition from motion picture films among intermediate elementary school pupils, Charles R. Andrews, research abstract, 3 348

The effect of systematic student response upon teaching behavior, Jennis Joseph Bapst, research abstract, 4 489

The effect of visual illustrations upon perception and retention of news programmes, Olle Findahl, research abstract, 2 220

The effectiveness of three instructional modes employed to transmit content to students with different aptitude patterns, Wayne Francis Virag, research abstract, 3 346-347

The effectiveness of three microteaching environments in preparing undergraduates for student teaching, William D. Johnson and Sally B. Pancrazio, research abstract, 1 109

The effects of the availability of objectives and/or rules on the learning process, research abstract, 1 111-112

The effects of a filmstrip/tape program on teachers' attitudes toward behaviorally stated objectives, article, Earl P. Smith, 4 443-457

Effects of programed vs. conventional instruction on proficiency at office-typing tasks, Leonard J. West, research abstract, 3 347

The effects of reading practice with compressed speech on reading rate and listening comprehension, article, Kenneth H. Thames and Charles M. Rossiter, Jr., 1 35-42

The effects of utilizing simultaneous audio and printed media in science, William G. Holliday, research abstract, 1 110-111

The effects of verbally violent film content on aggressive behavior, article, Timothy P. Meyer, 2 160-169

The effects of viewing justified and unjustified fictional versus real film violence on aggressive behavior, Timothy P. Meyer, research abstract, 1 105

An experimental study to examine the responses of sixth grade students to programmed art instruction and evaluative instruments designed to correspond to selected ability trait variables, Lorraine S. Force, research abstract, 3 345-346

An exploratory investigation of cross-modality cueing and stimulus-response associations in selected ITV programs, Kenneth Jerome Ksobiech, research abstract, 3 348-349

Expressed preferences and desirability judgments of parents and their children for eighteen types of television violence, David Lawrence Rarick, research abstract, 4 484-485

Eye Movement

research abstracts: "Eye movements as a function of response contingencies measured by blackout technique," 3 350-351; A study of the effects on visual attention and criterion performance of varying amounts of realistic detail and viewing time, 4 487-488

"Eye movements as a function of response contingencies measured by blackout technique," Judith Doran and James G. Holland, research abstract, 3 350-351

F

Facilitating India's family planning program through television: A study of source effectiveness, Helen Elizabeth Parris, research abstract, 4 486-487

Fassler, Joan, and Dale N. Bryant, Task performance, attention, and classroom behavior of seriously disturbed, communication-impaired, "autistic"—type children under conditions of reduced auditory input. Interim report. research abstract, 4 490

Fassler, Joan, and Eleanor Sweeney, Performance and classroom behavior of seriously disturbed, verbally communicative, psychotic-type children under conditions of reduced auditory input. Interim report, research abstract, 4 490

A feasibility study for individualized instruction of college freshman in two basic areas of general education. Final report, Marshall Gunselman, et al., research abstract, 4 488

Fensch, Thomas, Films on campus. Book reviewed by David L. Parker, 3 324-329

Film
articles: Applying learning theory and instructional film principles to films for learning observation skills, 3 281-295; The effects of verbally violent film content on aggressive behavior, 2 160-169; Can we affect cognitive skills through visual media? An hypothesis and initial findings, 4 401-422 research abstracts: The effect of motion pictures portraying black models on the self-concept of black elementary school children, 1 104; The effect of short-term interruptions upon factual acquisition from motion picture films among intermediate elementary school pupils, 3 348; The effects of viewing justified and unjustified fictional versus real film violence on aggressive behavior, 1 105

Filmmaking
research abstract: Involvement and making movies: A study of the introduction of movie making to poverty boys, final report, 1 108

Films deliver, Anthony Schillaci and John M. Culkin, (Eds.), Book reviewed by David L. Parker, 3 324-329

Films Incorporated, The black man on film: Racial stereotyping. Film reviewed by Sam Kula, 4 470-473

Films on campus, Thomas Fensch. Book reviewed by David L. Parker, 3 324-329

Filmstrip
article: The effects of a filmstrip/tape program on teachers' attitudes toward behaviorally stated objectives, 4 443-457

Findahl, Olle, The effect of visual illustrations upon perception and retention of news programmes, research abstract, 2 220

Fleming, Malcolm L., and Mehdi Sheikhian, Influence of pictorial attributes on recognition memory, article, 4 423-441

Focus on D. W. Griffith, Harry M. Geduld (Ed.). Book reviewed by Robert Steele, 2 204-208

Force, Lorraine S., An experimental study to examine the responses of sixth grade students to programmed art instruction and evaluative instruments designed to correspond to selected ability trait variables, research abstract, 3 345-346

The fourth revolution: Instructional technology in higher education, Carnegie Commission on Higher Education. Book reviewed by Sterling M. McMurrin, 4 466-470 research abstracts: A comparison of affective reaction and cognitive learning of participants in a simulation-game experience, 1 107-108; Emotional arousal and attitude change during simulation games, 3 343; The relation of a personality trait and game conditions to participant learning, 3 342-343; Simulation games and attitudes toward the poor: Three questionnaire studies, 4 489-490

G

Games

Geduld, Harry M., (Ed.), Focus on D. W. Griffith. Book reviewed by Robert Steele, 2 204-208

Geisert, Paul, A comparison of the effects of information mapped learning materials and traditional materials on the learning of concepts via the printed page and computer cathode ray tube, research abstract, 1 111

General psychology over closed-circuit television: A decade of experience with 20,000 students, article, Faye Dambrot, 2 181-193

Giannetti, Louis D., Understanding movies. Book reviewed by John H. Tyo, 4 474-476

Gilman, David Alan, The origins and development of intrinsic and adaptive programming, article, 1 64-76

Girls' attitudes toward violence as related to TV exposure, family attitudes, and social class, Joseph R. Dominick and Bradley S. Greenberg, research abstract, 4 484

Goal expectancy as a variable in teaching learning situations. Section III, instructional strategies: Multivariable studies of psychological processes related to instruction, Francis J. Di Vesta et al., research abstract, 3 349-350

The good teacher: How teachers judge teachers, Richard Stone. Book reviewed by Albert V. Mayrhofer, 1 82-85

Goodlad, John, and M. Frances Klein, Behind the classroom door. Book reviewed by Albert V. Mayrhofer, 1 82-85

Gordon, Thomas F. See Greenberg, Bradley S., 2 217-218

Grausnick, Robert R., and James P. Kottenstette, A performance evaluation: Microfiche versus hardcopy, final report, research abstract, 3 352

Grausnick, Robert R., et al., Microform use in a technical training environment: An experiment, final report, research abstract, 3 352

Greenberg, Bradley S., Children's television behaviors as perceived by mother and child, research abstract, 4 485-486. Also see Dominick, Joseph R.

Greenberg, Bradley S., and Thomas F. Gordon, Children's perceptions of television violence: A replication, research abstract 2 217-218

Greenberger, Martin, Computers, communications and the public interest. Book reviewed by Lewis A. Rhodes and Stanley J. Applebaum, 3 307-313

Gunselman, Marshall, et al., A feasibility study for individualized instruction of college freshmen in two basic areas of general education, research abstract, 4 488

H

Haavelsrud, Magnus, Development of concepts related to peace and war: An international perspective, research abstract, 2 218-219; Learning resources in the formation of international orientations, article, 3 229-251

Hall, Douglas C., Research methodology of NDEA Title VII-A: A descriptive and critical analysis, article, 2 117-134

Hall, George L., book reviewer, 4 476-478

Hall, Keith A., book reviewer, 1 93-97

Harcleroad, Fred F., book reviewer, 2 199-203

Hawkridge, David G., Applications of educational technology at The Open University, article, 1 5-15

Hiebert, Ray, Robert Jones, John Lorenz, and Ernest Lotito, The political image merchants: Strategies in the new politics. Book reviewed by Cerebrus, 2 194-199

Heinich, Robert, Editor AVCR, vol. 20

Higham, Charles, Hollywood cameramen. Book reviewed by John H. Tyo, 4 474-476

Hirrel, Michael A., The use of non-verbal cultural free learning materials in determining the value of sequencing, cueing, and individual response in programmed instruction for three levels of learning ability by sex, research abstract, 3 344-345

Hitti, Fred J., et al., Computer-managed testing: A feasibility study with deaf students, research abstract, 4 488-489

Holland, James G. See Doran, Judith

Holliday, William G., The effects of utilizing simultaneous audio and printed media in science, research abstract, 1 110-111

Hollywood cameramen, Charles Higham. Book reviewed by John H. Tyo, 4 474-476

Hudgins, Bryce, The instructional process. Book reviewed by Albert V. Mayrhofer, 1 82-85

I

To improve learning, Sidney G. Tickton. Book reviewed by Gerald M. Torkelson, 1 86-92

Index to black history & studies (multimedia), National Information Center for Educational Media. Book reviewed by Jean A. McRae, 1 97-98

Individual differences articles: Can we affect cognitive skills through visual media? An hypothesis and initial findings, 4 401-422; The effects of a filmstrip/tape program on teachers' attitudes toward behaviorally stated objectives, 4 443-457; Varying instructional methods to fit trainee characteristics, 2 135-146;
research abstracts: An analysis of teacher-pupil interactions when instruction is individualized, 1 103-104; "Attitudes and media exposure," 2 220-221; The effect of sequence and familiarity with subject matter in achievement from programed instruction, final report, 3 346; The effect of short-term interruptions upon factual acquisition from motion picture films among intermediate elementary school pupils, 3 348; The effectiveness of three instructional modes employed to transmit content to students with different aptitude patterns, 3 346-347; An experimental study to examine the responses of sixth grade students to programmed art instruction and evaluative instruments designed to correspond to selected ability trait variables, 3 345-346; Expressed preferences and desirability judgments of parents and their children for eighteen types of television violence, 4 484-485; Girls' attitudes toward violence as related to TV exposure, family attitudes, and social class, 4 484; Mass media preference patterns: A cross-media study, 1 107; Predicting success in an individualized multi-media instruction program using variables of aptitude and personality, 3 344; The relation of a personality trait and game conditions to participant learning, 3 342-343; Sesame street summative research: Some implications for education and child development, 4 483; The use of non-verbal cultural free learning materials in determining the value of sequencing, cueing, and individual response in programmed instruction for three levels of learning ability by sex, 3 344-345;
Individualized instruction
research abstracts: An analysis of teacher-pupil interactions when instruction is individualized, 1 103-104; A feasibility study for individualized instruction of college freshman in two basic areas of general education. Final report, 4 488; Predicting success in an individualized multi-media instruction program using variables of aptitude and personality, 3 344
Influence of pictorial attributes on recognition memory, article, Malcolm L. Fleming and Mehdi Sheikhian, 4 423-441
The influence of social class, the family, and exposure to television violence on the socialization of aggression, Joseph Raymond Dominick, Jr., research abstract, 2 216-217
Information technology in a democracy, Alan F. Westin (Ed.). Book reviewed by Lewis A. Rhodes and Stanley J. Applebaum, 3 307-313
Information storage and retrieval article: Classification and coding systems for media resources, 3 296-306 Instructional media article: Learning resources in the formation of international orientations, 3 229-251
The instructional process, Bryce Hudgins. Book reviewed by Albert V. Mayrhofer, 1 82-85
Instructional technology articles: Applications of educational technology at The Open University, 1 5-15; The automated little red schoolhouse, 3 253-269; General psychology over closed-circuit television: A decade of experience with 20,000 students, 2 181-193; Renewing the link between communications and educational technology, 4 357-399 Instructional television. See television, instructional Interpersonal communication as a determinant of mass media exposure patterns, Charles K. Atkin, research abstract, 1 106
An investigation of the effects of learner control in computer-assisted instruction prerequisite mathematics (MATHS), Wilson Judd, et al., research abstract, 2 221-222
An investigation of the effects of two types of instructional terminals in computer-managed instruction, Bobby R. Brown et al., research abstract, 2 222

Involvement and making movies: A study of the introduction of movie making to poverty boys, final report, Roderick Durkin, research abstract, 1 108

J

Jelden, David L. Predicting success in an individualized multi-media instruction program using variables of aptitude and personality, research abstract, 3 344

Johnson, William D., and Sally B. Pancrazio, The effectiveness of three microteaching environments in preparing undergraduates for student teaching, research abstract, 1 109

Jones, Robert. See Hiebert, Ray

Judd, Wilson, et al., An investigation of the effects of learner control in computer-assisted instruction prerequisite mathematics (MATHS), research abstract, 2 221-222

K

Kaplan, Max, and Phillip Bosserman, (Eds.), Technology, human values and leisure. Book reviewed by Geoffrey Squires, 3 314-319

Katzman, Natan, and James Nyenhuis, Color vs. black-and-white effects on learning, opinion, and attention, article, 1 16-28

Kaufman, Roger. See Lessinger, Leon

Kidder, Steven J., Emotional arousal and attitude change during simulation games, research abstract, 3 343

King, Charles W., and John O. Summers, "Attitudes and media exposure," research abstract, 2 220-221

Klein, M. Frances. See Goodlad, John

Komoski, P. Kenneth, book reviewer, 4 459-463

Koran, Mary Lou, Varying instructional methods to fit trainee characteristics, article, 2 135-146

Kottenstette, James P., See Grausnick, Robert R.

Krugman, Herbert E., "Brain wave measures of media involvement," research abstract, 2 219-220

Ksobiech, Kenneth Jerome, An exploratory investigation of cross-modality cueing and stimulus-response associations in selected ITV programs, research abstract, 3 348-349

Kuhn, Thomas S., The Copernican revolution. Book reviewed by Geoffrey Squires, 3 314-319

Kula, Sam, book reviewer, 4 470-473

L

Learning

articles: Color vs. black-and-white effects on learning, opinion, and attention, 1 16-18; The relative efficiency of bimodal presentation as an aid to learning, 2 170-180 research abstracts: The effects of the availability of objectives and/or rules on the learning process, 1 111-112; Goal expectancy as a variable in teaching learning situations. Section III, instructional strategies: Multivariable studies of psychological processes related to instruction, 3 349-350; Learning by listening in relation to aptitude, reading, and rate-controlled speech; additional studies, 1 110

Learning by listening in relation to aptitude, reading, and rate-controlled speech; additional studies, Thomas G. Sticht, research abstract, 1 110

Learning theory, application

article: Applying learning theory and instructional film principles to films for learning observation skills, 3 281-295

Learning resources in the formation of international orientations, Magnus Haavelsrud, article, 3 229-251

Ledbetter, Theodore, Jr., and Gilbert Mendelson, The wired city: A handbook on cable television for local officials. Book reviewed by Charles J. Vento, 3 335-341

Leifer, Aimee Dorr, and Donald F. Roberts, Children's responses to television violence, research abstract, 2 218

Lessinger, Leon, Dale Parnell, and Roger Kaufman, Accountability: Policies & procedures, learner centered management support systems. Book reviewed by Alton Sheridan, 2 208-210
Letters, Sidney G. Tickton, 2 223-224
Linne, Olga, Reactions of children to violence on TV, research abstract, 2 217
Lipsitz, Lawrence, (Ed.), Technology and education. Book reviewed by Geoffrey Squires, 3 314-319
Liske, Robert L. See Butler, Lucius Listening
article: The effects of reading practice with compressed speech on reading rate and listening comprehension, 1 35-42
Livingston, Samuel A., Simulation games and attitudes toward the poor: Three questionnaire studies, research abstract, 4 489-490
Lorenz, John. See Hiebert, Ray
Lotito, Ernest. See Hiebert, Ray

M

Man and machine, Henri Cartier-Bresson. Book reviewed by John P. Vergis, 3 330-334
The management of learning, Ivor K. Davies. Book reviewed by Leslie J. Briggs, 4 463-466
Margolin, Joseph B., and Marion R. Misch, Computers in the classroom. Book reviewed by Keith A. Hall, 1 93-97
Markle, Susan M., book reviewer, 1 77-82
Martin, James, and Adrian R. D. Norman, The computerized society. Book reviewed by Lewis A. Rhodes and Stanley J. Applebaum, 3 307-313
Mass media preference patterns: A cross-media study, Dwight A. Williams, Jr., research abstract, 1 107
Mass media
article: Learning resources in the formation of international orientations, 3 229-251 research abstracts: Development of concepts related to peace and war: An international perspective, 2 218-219; Interpersonal communication as a determinant of mass media exposure patterns, 1 106; Mass media preference patterns: A cross-media study, 1 107
Maynard, Richard R., The celluloid curriculum: How to use movies in the classroom, Book reviewed by Sam Kula, 4 470-473
Mayrhofer, Albert V., book reviewer, 1 82-85
McMurrin, Sterling M., book reviewer, 4 466-470
Mendelson, Gilbert. See Ledbetter, Theodore, Jr.
Menne, John W. See Menne, Joy M.
Menne, Joy M. and John W. Menne, The relative efficiency of bimodal presentation as an aid to learning, article, 2 170-180
Meredith, J. C., The CAI author/instructor. Book reviewed by Keith A. Hall, 1 93-97
Merrill, Paul F., The effects of the availability of objectives and/or rules on the learning process, research abstract, 1 111-112
Meyer, Timothy P., The effects of verbally violent film content on aggressive behavior, article, 2 160-169; The effects of viewing justified and unjustified fictional versus real film violence on aggressive behavior, research abstract, 1 105
Microform use in a technical training environment: An experiment, final report, Robert R. Grausnick, et al., research abstract, 3 352
Microform
research abstracts: Microform use in a technical training environment: An experiment, final report, 3 352; A performance evaluation: Microfiche versus hardcopy, final report, 3 352
Microteaching
article: Varying instructional methods to fit trainee characteristics, 2 135-146 research abstract: The effectiveness of three microteaching environments in preparing undergraduates for student teaching, 1 109
Mielke, Keith W., Renewing the link between communications and educational technology, article, 4 357-399
Miller, George. See Deagelia, Pena
Miller, Elwood E., book reviewer, 3 320-324
Misch, Marion R. See Margolin, Joseph B.
Motivating the student in CAI technical courses, Nicholas A. Bond, Jr., research abstract, 1 108-109 Motivation. See attitudes

Multimedia
research abstracts: Environmental simulation, 1 109-110; Predicting success in an individualized multi-media instruction program using variables of aptitude and personality, 3 344

N

National Information Center for Educational Media, Index to black history & studies (multimedia). Book reviewed by Jean A. McRae, 1 97-98
Neujahr, James Lloyd, An analysis of teacher-pupil interactions when instruction is individualized, research abstract, 1 103-104
Norman, Adrian R. D. See Martin, James
Notes and comment, Robert C. Snider, 1 99-102, 2 211-215, 4 479-481
Nyenhuis, James. See Katzman, Natan
Nursing education
article: Applying learning theory and instructional film principles to films for learning observation skills, 3 281-295

O

Objectives
article: The effects of a filmstrip/tape program on teachers' attitudes toward behaviorally stated objectives, 4 443-457
research abstract: The effects of the availability of objectives and/or rules on the learning process, 1 111-112
Observed differences in teacher verbal behavior when using and not using the overhead projector, article, James Cabeceiras, 3 271-280
On the cable, the television of abundance, report of the Sloan Commission on cable communication. Book reviewed by Charles J. Vento, 3 335-341
Open University
article: Applications of educational technology at The Open University, 1 5-15
The origins and development of intrinsic and adaptive programing, article, David Alan Gilman, 1 64-76
Overhead projector
article: Observed differences in teacher verbal behavior when using and not using the overhead projector, 3 271-280

P

Pancrazio, Sally B. See Johnson, William D.
Parker, David L., book reviewer, 3 324-329
Parnell, Dale. See Lessinger, Leon
Paris, John August, The relation of a personality trait and game conditions to participant learning, research abstract, 3 342-343
Parris, Helen Elizabeth, Facilitating India's family planning program through television: A study of source effectiveness, research abstract, 4 486-487
Pearson, Betty D., Applying learning theory and instructional film principles to films for learning observation skills, article, 3 281-295
Perception and change: Projections for survival, John R. Platt. Book reviewed by Fred F. Harcleroad, 2 199-203
Performance and classroom behavior of seriously disturbed, verbally communicative, psychotic-type children under conditions of reduced auditory input. Interim report, Joan Fassler and Eleanor Sweeney, research abstract, 4 490
A performance evaluation: Microfiche versus hardcopy, final report, Robert R. Grausnick and James P. Kottenstette, research abstract, 3 352
Perspectives in individualized learning, Robert A. Weisgerber. Book reviewed by Elwood E. Miller, 3 320-324
Perspectives in the history of science and technology, Duane H. Roller (Ed.). Book reviewed by Geoffrey Squires, 3 314-319
Piele, P. K., T. L. Eidell, and S. C. Smith (Eds.), Social and technological change: Implications for education. Book reviewed by Albert V. Mayrhofer, 1 82-85
Platt, John R., Perception and change: Projections for survival. Book reviewed by Fred F. Harcleroad, 2 199-203
The political image merchants: Strategies in the new politics, Ray Hiebert, Robert Jones, John Lorenz, and Ernest Lotito

(Eds.). Book reviewed by Cerebrus, 2 194-199

Portrait of a director: Satyajit Ray, Marie Seton. Book reviewed by Robert Steele, 2 204-208

Predicting success in an individualized multimedia instruction program using variables of aptitude and personality, David L. Jelden, research abstract, 3 344

Price, Monroe E., and John Wicklein, Cable television, a guide for citizen action. Book reviewed by Charles J. Vento, 3 335-341

Print media
research abstracts: The effects of utilizing simultaneous audio and printed media in science, 1 110-111; "Attitudes and media exposure," 2 220-221; "Brain wave measures of media involvement," 2 219-220; A comparison of the effects of information mapped learning materials and traditional materials on the learning of concepts via the printed page and computer cathode ray tube, 1 111

Programed Instruction
article: The origins and development of intrinsic and adaptive programing, 1 64-76 research abstracts: The effect of sequence and familiarity with subject matter in achievement from programed instruction, final report, 3 346; Effects of programed vs. conventional instruction on proficiency at office-typing tasks, 3 347; An experimental study to examine the responses of sixth grade students to programmed art instruction and evaluative instruments designed to correspond to selected ability trait variables, 3 345-346; "Eye movements as a function of response contingencies measured by blackout technique," 3 350-351; The use of non-verbal cultural free learning materials in determining the value of sequencing, cueing, and individual response in programmed instruction for three levels of learning ability by sex, 3 344-345

Purcell, Carl, Teach me! Book reviewed by John P. Vergis, 3 330-334

R

Rarick, David Lawrence, Expressed preferences and desirability judgments of parents and their children for eighteen types of television violence, research abstract, 4 484-485

Reactions of children to violence on TV, Olga Linne, research abstract, 2 217

Reading
article: The effects of reading practice with compressed speech on reading rate and listening comprehension, 1 35-42

Recognition memory, pictures
article: Influence of pictorial attributes on recognition memory, 4 423-442

Renewing the link between communications and educational technology, article, Keith W. Mielke, 4 357-399

The relative efficiency of bimodal presentation as an aid to learning, article, Joy M. Menne and John W. Menne, 2 170-180

The relation of a personality trait and game conditions to participant learning, John August Paris, research abstract, 3 342-343

Research
articles: In search of a visual rhetoric for instructional television, 1 43-63; Research methodology of NDEA Title VII-A: A descriptive and critical analysis, 2 117-134; Renewing the link between communications and educational technology, 4 357-399; A review of experimental methodology in instructional task sequencing, 2 147-159

Research methodology of NDEA Title VII-A: A descriptive and critical analysis, article, Douglas C. Hall, 2 117-134

Response mode
article: The stability of evoked sense-impression responses to verbal stimuli, 1 29-34

A review of experimental methodology in instructional task sequencing, article, Robert D. Tennyson, 2 147-159

Reynertson, A. J., The work of the film director. Book reviewed by Robert Steele, 2 204-208

Rhodes, Lewis A., book reviewer, 3 307-313

Roberts, Donald F. See Leifer, Aimee Dorr

Roller, Duane H., (Ed.), Perspectives in the history of science and technology. Book reviewed by Geoffrey Squires, 3 314-319

Multimedia
research abstracts: Environmental simulation, 1 109-110; Predicting success in an individualized multi-media instruction program using variables of aptitude and personality, 3 344

N

National Information Center for Educational Media, Index to black history & studies (multimedia). Book reviewed by Jean A. McRae, 1 97-98
Neujahr, James Lloyd, An analysis of teacher-pupil interactions when instruction is individualized, research abstract, 1 103-104
Norman, Adrian R. D. See Martin, James
Notes and comment, Robert C. Snider, 1 99-102, 2 211-215, 4 479-481
Nyenhuis, James. See Katzman, Natan
Nursing education
article: Applying learning theory and instructional film principles to films for learning observation skills, 3 281-295

O

Objectives
article: The effects of a filmstrip/tape program on teachers' attitudes toward behaviorally stated objectives, 4 443-457
research abstract: The effects of the availability of objectives and/or rules on the learning process, 1 111-112
Observed differences in teacher verbal behavior when using and not using the overhead projector, article, James Cabeceiras, 3 271-280
On the cable, the television of abundance, report of the Sloan Commission on cable communication. Book reviewed by Charles J. Vento, 3 335-341
Open University
article: Applications of educational technology at The Open University, 1 5-15
The origins and development of intrinsic and adaptive programing, article, David Alan Gilman, 1 64-76
Overhead projector
article: Observed differences in teacher verbal behavior when using and not using the overhead projector, 3 271-280

P

Pancrazio, Sally B. See Johnson, William D.
Parker, David L., book reviewer, 3 324-329
Parnell, Dale. See Lessinger, Leon
Paris, John August, The relation of a personality trait and game conditions to participant learning, research abstract, 3 342-343
Parris, Helen Elizabeth, Facilitating India's family planning program through television: A study of source effectiveness, research abstract, 4 486-487
Pearson, Betty D., Applying learning theory and instructional film principles to films for learning observation skills, article, 3 281-295
Perception and change: Projections for survival, John R. Platt. Book reviewed by Fred F. Harcleroad, 2 199-203
Performance and classroom behavior of seriously disturbed, verbally communicative, psychotic-type children under conditions of reduced auditory input. Interim report, Joan Fassler and Eleanor Sweeney, research abstract, 4 490
A performance evaluation: Microfiche versus hardcopy, final report, Robert R. Grausnick and James P. Kottenstette, research abstract, 3 352
Perspectives in individualized learning, Robert A. Weisgerber. Book reviewed by Elwood E. Miller, 3 320-324
Perspectives in the history of science and technology, Duane H. Roller (Ed.). Book reviewed by Geoffrey Squires, 3 314-319
Piele, P. K., T. L. Eidell, and S. C. Smith (Eds.), Social and technological change: Implications for education. Book reviewed by Albert V. Mayrhofer, 1 82-85
Platt, John R., Perception and change: Projections for survival. Book reviewed by Fred F. Harcleroad, 2 199-203
The political image merchants: Strategies in the new politics, Ray Hiebert, Robert Jones, John Lorenz, and Ernest Lotito

(Eds.). Book reviewed by Cerebrus, 2 194-199

Portrait of a director: Satyajit Ray, Marie Seton. Book reviewed by Robert Steele, 2 204-208

Predicting success in an individualized multimedia instruction program using variables of aptitude and personality, David L. Jelden, research abstract, 3 344

Price, Monroe E., and John Wicklein, Cable television, a guide for citizen action. Book reviewed by Charles J. Vento, 3 335-341

Print media

research abstracts: The effects of utilizing simultaneous audio and printed media in science, 1 110-111; "Attitudes and media exposure," 2 220-221; "Brain wave measures of media involvement," 2 219-220; A comparison of the effects of information mapped learning materials and traditional materials on the learning of concepts via the printed page and computer cathode ray tube, 1 111

Programed Instruction

article: The origins and development of intrinsic and adaptive programing, 1 64-76

research abstracts: The effect of sequence and familiarity with subject matter in achievement from programed instruction, final report, 3 346; Effects of programed vs. conventional instruction on proficiency at office-typing tasks, 3 347; An experimental study to examine the responses of sixth grade students to programmed art instruction and evaluative instruments designed to correspond to selected ability trait variables, 3 345-346; "Eye movements as a function of response contingencies measured by blackout technique," 3 350-351; The use of non-verbal cultural free learning materials in determining the value of sequencing, cueing, and individual response in programmed instruction for three levels of learning ability by sex, 3 344-345

Purcell, Carl, Teach me! Book reviewed by John P. Vergis, 3 330-334

R

Rarick, David Lawrence, Expressed preferences and desirability judgments of parents and their children for eighteen types of television violence, research abstract, 4 484-485

Reactions of children to violence on TV, Olga Linne, research abstract, 2 217

Reading

article: The effects of reading practice with compressed speech on reading rate and listening comprehension, 1 35-42

Recognition memory, pictures

article: Influence of pictorial attributes on recognition memory, 4 423-442

Renewing the link between communications and educational technology, article, Keith W. Mielke, 4 357-399

The relative efficiency of bimodal presentation as an aid to learning, article, Joy M. Menne and John W. Menne, 2 170-180

The relation of a personality trait and game conditions to participant learning, John August Paris, research abstract, 3 342-343

Research

articles: In search of a visual rhetoric for instructional television, 1 43-63; Research methodology of NDEA Title VII-A: A descriptive and critical analysis, 2 117-134; Renewing the link between communications and educational technology, 4 357-399; A review of experimental methodology in instructional task sequencing, 2 147-159

Research methodology of NDEA Title VII-A: A descriptive and critical analysis, article, Douglas C. Hall, 2 117-134

Response mode

article: The stability of evoked sense-impression responses to verbal stimuli, 1 29-34

A review of experimental methodology in instructional task sequencing, article, Robert D. Tennyson, 2 147-159

Reynertson, A. J., The work of the film director. Book reviewed by Robert Steele, 2 204-208

Rhodes, Lewis A., book reviewer, 3 307-313

Roberts, Donald F. See Leifer, Aimee Dorr

Roller, Duane H., (Ed.), Perspectives in the history of science and technology. Book reviewed by Geoffrey Squires, 3 314-319

Rossiter, Charles M., Jr. See Thames, Kenneth H.

Rusk, Paul Clinton, A study of the effects on visual attention and criterion performance of varying amounts of realistic detail and viewing time, research abstract, 4 487-488

Russia, instructional technology article: The automated little red schoolhouse, 3 253-269

S

Salomon, Gavriel, Can we affect cognitive skills through visual media? An hypothesis and initial findings, article, 4 401-422

School of man, (special issue of Theory Into Practice). Book reviewed by John P. Vergis, 3 330-334

Schools and cable television. Book reviewed by Charles J. Vento, 3 335-341

Schillaci, Anthony, and John M. Culkin, (Eds.), Films deliver. Book reviewed by David L. Parker, 3 324-329

The sciences of the artificial, Herbert A. Simon. Book reviewed by P. Kenneth Komoski, 4 459-463

In search of a visual rhetoric for instructional television, article, Charles M. Anderson, 1 43-63

Self-paced instruction research abstracts: A study of the effects of student control of audio tape learning experiences (via the control functions incorporated in the instructional device), 3 345; An investigation of the effects of learner control in computer-assisted instruction prerequisite mathematics (MATHS), 2 221-222

Senour, Robert A., A study of the effects of student control of audio tape learning experiences (via the control functions incorporated in the instructional device), research abstract, 3 345

Sequencing
article: A review of experimental methodology in instructional task sequencing, 2 147-159

Sesame Street summative research: Some implications for education and child development, Samuel Ball and Gerry Ann Bogatz, research abstract, 4 483

Seton, Marie, Portrait of a director: Satyajit Ray, Book reviewed by Robert Steele, 2 204-208

Sheikhian, Mehdi. See Fleming, Malcolm L.

Sheridan, Alton, book reviewer, 2 204-208

Silber, Kenneth H., and Gerald W. Ewing, Environmental simulation, research abstract, 1 109-110

Simon, Herbert A., The sciences of the artificial. Book reviewed by P. Kenneth Komoski, 4 459-463

Simulation
research abstract: environmental simulation, 1 109-110

Simulation games and attitudes toward the poor: Three questionnaire studies, Samuel A. Livingston, research abstract, 4 489-490

Skinner, B. F., Beyond freedom and dignity. Book reviewed by Susan M. Markle, 1 77-82

Sloan Commission on Cable Communication, On the cable, the television of abundance (report). Book reviewed by Charles J. Vento, 3 335-41

Smith, Earl P., The effects of a filmstrip/tape program on teachers' attitudes toward behaviorally stated objectives, article, 4 443-457

Smith, S. C. See Piele, P.K.

Snider, Robert C., Notes and comment, 1 99-102, 2 211-215, 4 479-481

Social and technological change: Implications for education, P. K. Piele, T. L. Eidell, and S. C. Smith (Eds.). Book reviewed by Albert V. Mayrhofer, 1 82-85

Social skills, development of research abstract: Analysis of children's social skills development and their reactions to a preschool television program, 3 349

Sonar recognition training: An investigation of whole vs. part and analytic synthetic procedures, John Annett, research abstract, 4 491

Squires, Geoffrey, book reviewer, 3 314-319

The stability of evoked sense-impression responses to verbal stimuli, article, David H. Bauer, 1 29-34

Steele, Robert, book reviewer, 2 204-208

Sticht, Thomas G., Learning by listening in relation to aptitude, reading, and rate-controlled speech; additional studies, research abstract, 1 110

Stone, Richard, The good teacher: How teachers judge teachers. Book reviewed by Albert V. Mayrhofer, 1 82-85

Student response. See also response mode research abstracts: The effect of systematic student response upon teaching behavior, 4 489; An investigation of the effects of two types of instructional terminals in computer-managed instruction, 2 222

A study of the effects on visual attention and criterion performance of varying amounts of realistic detail and viewing time, Paul Clinton Rusk, research abstract, 4 487-488

A study of the effects of student control of audio tape learning experiences (via the control functions incorporated in the instructional device), Robert A. Senour, research abstract 3 345

Study of visual and auditory presentation in dental lecture and laboratory instruction, final report, William H. Allen, et al., research abstract, 3 351-352

Summers, John O. See King, Charles W.

Sweeney, Eleanor. See Fassler, Joan.

Systems
articles: Applications of educational technology at The Open University, 1 5-15; Classification and coding systems for media resources, 3 296-306

T

Task performance, attention and classroom behavior of seriously disturbed, communication-impaired, "autistic"-type children under conditions of reduced auditory input. Interim report, Joan Fassler and Dale N. Bryant, research abstract, 4 490

Tate, Charles, (Ed.), Cable television in the cities: Community control, public access, and minority ownership. Book reviewed by Charles J. Vento, 3 335-341

Teach me! Carl Purcell. Book reviewed by John P. Vergis, 3 330-334

Teacher education article: Varying instructional methods to fit trainee characteristics, 2 135-146

Teachers
articles: Observed differences in teacher verbal behavior when using and not using the overhead projector, 3 271-280; The effects of a filmstrip/tape program on teachers' attitudes toward behaviorally stated objectives, 4 443-457
research abstracts: An analysis of teacher-pupil interactions when instruction is individualized, 1 103-104; The effect of systematic student response upon teaching behavior, 4 489

Teaching methods, comparison of articles: Observed differences in teacher verbal behavior when using and not using the overhead projector, 3 271-280; Varying instructional methods to fit trainee characteristics, 2 135-146
research abstracts: The effectiveness of three instructional modes employed to transmit content to students with different aptitude patterns, 3 346-347; Effects of programed vs. conventional instruction on proficiency at office-typing tasks, 3 347; The effects of utilizing simultaneous audio and printed media in science, 1 110-111; Involvement and making movies: A study of the introduction of movie making to poverty boys, final report, 1 108; Predicting success in an individualized multi-media instruction program using variables of aptitude and personality, 3 344; Study of visual and auditory presentation in dental lecture and laboratory instruction, final report, 3 351-342

Technology, human values and leisure, Max Kaplan and Phillip Bosserman (Eds.). Book reviewed by Geoffrey Squires, 3 314-319

Technology and education, Lawrence Lipsitz (Ed.). Book reviewed by Geoffrey Squires, 3 314-319

Tennyson, Robert D., A review of experimental methodology in instructional task sequencing, article, 2 147-159

Television
research abstracts: "Attitudes and media exposure," 2 220-221; "Brain wave measures of media involvement," 2 219-220;

The effect of visual illustrations upon perception and retention of news programmes, 2 220; Electronic politics and the voter: Conventional wisdom and empirical evidence, 1 106-107

Television and Violence. See also violence and mass media research abstracts: Children's perceptions of television violence: A replication, 2 217-218; Children's responses to television violence, 2 218; Children's television behaviors as perceived by mother and child, 4 485-486; "The contagion of violence: An s-r mediational analysis of some effects of observed aggression," 3 350; Expressed preferences and desirability judgments of parents and their children for eighteen types of television violence, 4 484-485; Girls' attitudes toward violence as related to TV exposure, family attitudes, and social class, 4 484; The influence of social class, the family, and exposure to television violence on the socialization of aggression, 2 216-217; Reactions of children to violence on TV, 2 217

Television, India

research abstract: Facilitating India's family planning program through television: A study of source effectiveness, 4 486-487

Testing

research abstract: Computer-managed testing: A feasibility study with deaf students, 4 488-489

Television, instructional articles: General psychology over closed-circuit television: A decade of experience with 20,000 students, 2 181-193; The relative efficiency of bimodal presentation as an aid to learning, 2 170-180; In search of a visual rhetoric for instructional television, 1 43-63

research abstracts: Analysis of children's social skills development and their reactions to a preschool television program, 3 349; An exploratory investigation of cross-modality cueing and stimulus-response associations in selected ITV programs, 3 348-349; Facilitating India's family planning program through television: A study of source effectiveness, 4 486-487; Sesame street summative research: Some implications for education, and child development, 4 483

Thames, Kenneth H., and Charles M. Rossiter, Jr., The effects of reading practice with compressed speech on reading rate and listening comprehension, article, 1 35-42

Tickton, Sidney G., Letters, 2 223-224; To improve learning. Book reviewed by Gerald M. Torkelson, 1 86-92

Tobias, Sigmund, The effect of sequence and familiarity with subject matter in achievement from programed instruction, final report, research abstract, 3 346

Tyo, John H., book reviewer, 4 474-476

U

Understanding movies, Louis D. Giannetti. Book reviewed by John H. Tyo, 4 474-476

The use of non-verbal cultural free learning materials in determining the value of sequencing, cueing, and individual response in programmed instruction for three levels of learning ability by sex, Michael A. Hirrel, research abstract, 3 344-345

V

Varying instructional methods to fit trainee characteristics, article, Mary Lou Koran, 2 135-146

Vento, Charles, J., book reviewer, 3 335-341

Verbal presentation

article: The stability of evoked sense-impression responses to verbal stimuli, 1 29-34

Vergis, John P., book reviewer, 3 330-334

Videotape

article: Varying instructional methods to fit trainee characteristics, 2 135-146

Violence and mass media. See also television and violence article: The effects of verbally violent film content on aggressive behavior, 2 160-169

research abstract: The effects of viewing justified and unjustified fictional versus real film violence on aggressive behavior, 1 105

Virag, Wayne Francis, The effectiveness of three instructional modes employed to transmit content to students with different aptitude patterns, research abstract, 3 346-347

Visual presentation

articles: Can we affect cognitive skills through visual media? An hypothesis and initial findings, 4 401-422; Color vs. black-and-white effects on learning, opinion, and attention, 1 16-28; Influence of pictorial attributes on recognition memory, 4 423-442; In search of a visual rhetoric for instructional television, 1 43-63; The relative efficiency of bimodal presentation as an aid to learning, 2 170-180 research abstracts: The effect of visual illustrations upon perception and retention of news programmes, 2 220; A study of the effects on visual attention and criterion performance of varying amounts of realistic detail and viewing time, 4 487-488

W

Weisgerber, Robert A., Developmental efforts in individualized learning, and Perspectives in individualized learning. Books reviewed by Elwood E. Miller, 3 320-324

West, Leonard J., Effects of programed vs. conventional instruction on proficiency at office-typing tasks, research abstract, 3 347

Westin, Alan F. (Ed.), Information technology in a democracy, Book reviewed by Lewis A. Rhodes and Stanley J. Applebaum, 3 307-313

Wicklein, John. See Price, Monroe E.

Williams, Dwight A., Jr., Mass media preference patterns: A cross-media study, research abstract, 1 107

Wilson, H. A. See Atkinson, Richard

The wired city: A handbook on cable television for local officials, by Theodore Ledbetter, Jr., and Gilbert Mendelson. Book reviewed by Charles J. Vento, 3 335-341

Wood, Milton E., Continuously adaptive vs. discrete changes of task difficulty in the training of a complex perceptual-motor task, research abstract, 2 222

The work of the film director, by A. J. Reynertson. Book reviewed by Robert Steele, 2 204-208

Y

Yale Review of Law and Social Action, special issue, The cable fable. Book reviewed by George L. Hall, 4 476-478

Z

Zender, Bryce F., Jr., The automated little red schoolhouse, article, 3 253-269